Your child will only be released to individuals you designate on the blue card

Communication:

Communication with our families is key to ensuring a successful school year. Regular emails, notices and flyers will share updates and important information. Also, be on the lookout for our monthly calendar of events compiled by our parent coordinator, and monthly newsletters compiled by each grade team. Our goal is to reduce our paper notices and communicate electronically. Therefore, we ask that you please give your email information to our parent coordinator and the PTA so you don't miss out on events and news from our school. Notices and flyers will also be posted on our school's website - www.ps221q.org. Families can also follow us on Twitter/X @PS221team.

 Please take the time to read emails/notices and send back needed responses.

NYC Schools Account (NYCSA):

It is important to set up a MYSTUDENT.NYC account for your students. This account is a helpful online portal that keeps track of your child's education records including report cards, schedule, and transportation details. You will need your child's Student ID OSIS# and an Account Creation Code. Contact our parent coordinator Teresa Kirchhofer at tkirchhofer@schools.nyc.gov for assistance.

Clothing:

Children are encouraged to be responsible for keeping track of their outerwear and other belongings.

- Please write your child's name on all outer garments, lunch boxes, and water bottles.
- Sneakers must be worn for gym/to participate in recess activities.
- Assembly clothes – a white shirt and black or dark blue pants/skirt. If you do not have this, your child can wear school spirit shirts.
- There is a Lost & Found box located in the lobby for unclaimed items to be retrieved.

Attendance:

Good attendance is essential for a successful school year.

- Research shows that children who are chronically absent – missing 20 or more days of school in a given school year -- are less likely to graduate from high school.
- Data shows that students who miss more school than their peers consistently score lower on standardized tests, no matter their age, demographic group, city, or state.
- Please reach out to your child's teacher, our guidance counselor, or administration if there are any issues with getting your child to school

Absences:

- If your child is sick, they should stay home. The best learning occurs when children feel their best. All work can be made up when they are feeling better.
- Please call the school/notify your child's teacher if they will be absent. When your child returns to school if there is a note from the doctor please send it in with them.
- If a family emergency requires you to travel when school is in session, please provide the school with proper documentation, which includes an office form along with your travel itinerary. Please note that traveling does not constitute an excused absence.

Lateness:

- Arriving on time is important emotionally and academically for students.
- Lateness disrupts the flow of the day for your child and the class.
- Students may feel anxious and/or miss work.
- To ensure a smooth transition, all students should be here prior to 8:20. Arrive early enough so your child does not feel rushed and has the time they need to say good-bye to you
- Any students arriving late, after 8:25, will enter through the main entrance and receive a late pass – they will be marked as late on attendance unless it is due to the school bus being late.

Leaving during the school day:

- Students are not permitted to leave the school building before the end of the school day unless a parent/guardian comes to sign them out. No child will be allowed to leave school without a parent/guardian.
- If you know your child needs to leave early, please contact the office and their teacher to ensure they are ready at the designated time.

- If a student becomes ill during the school day, they will be sent to the nurse. If the decision is made that the student should go home, the student's parent/guardian will be contacted. Only the parent/guardian or a designee who is listed on the student's emergency blue contact card can pick up the student.
- Note: Please ensure that the office has current home, work, and cell phone numbers so that we can reach you in the event of an emergency. If your phone number or email changes, please contact the school with the updated information.

Medical:

Children are not permitted to carry medication in school. Please see our school nurse Mrs. Young Jang for forms that must be completed for medications to be maintained and administered at school either on a daily or as-needed basis. These medications, which you supply, are secured in our medical room.

If your child has allergies and/or medical conditions, please promptly inform your child's teacher and our school nurse**

School Lunch Forms:

*Every student must return a signed school lunch form. Although school lunch is free to all, the NYC Department of Education requires this form be completed by each family every school year.

*Kindly complete this form by going online to <http://nyc.applyforlunch.com> or <https://www.myschoolapps.com/> or returning it to school.

Student Records:

Parents have the right to request a review of their child's school records. All requests need to be made in writing and sent to the attention of our guidance counselor Michelle Villacres at mwillacres@schools.nyc.gov.

Fire, Evacuation, and Lockdown Drills:

These drills are conducted many times during the school year. Proper safety procedures are reviewed by our teachers and staff. Students are expected to follow directions in a quiet, quick, and orderly manner.

Parking/Cross Walk:

- We know parking can be challenging. Please take the time to properly park your car when dropping off and picking-up your child to avoid a buildup of cars around the school.
- Double and triple parking can create an unsafe situation for our community and the possibility of a ticket***
- Crossing Marathon Parkway or 60th Avenue in the middle of the street and between cars is extremely dangerous; please cross at the crosswalk with the assistance of our crossing guard. We truly appreciate your full cooperation in this matter.

School Visits:

All visitors must enter the school through the safer access entrance door ONE AT A TIME. Each visitor must individually ring the bell, get buzzed in, and go to the security desk. Visitors must then sign in with our school safety agent and present picture identification. After receiving a pass, all visitors must proceed to the main office, Room 118, where staff will assist you. At the end of the visit, all visitors must exit through the main doors as all other doors are alarmed.

GRADING POLICY

We believe that grading has a purposeful and useful role in our school. It is the school's desire to make the process both meaningful and helpful to students, parents, and teachers. The P.S. 221 grading policy follows New York City Department of Education policies and guidelines, and reflects professional evaluation by teachers.

Grades are based on data which includes the use of standards-based rubrics and checklists, assessments, class work, projects, assignments, homework, participation, attitude, conduct, and work habits. Students earn grades; teachers do not give grades. Parents are encouraged to talk to students about schoolwork and grades, and contact teachers (first) and administrators (second) whenever there is a question regarding the grading policy.

Important Definitions (Kindergarten – Fifth Grade):Teacher Observation:

Observation of students gives the teacher valuable information about students' progress, understanding, strengths and challenges, cooperation, study habits, and attitude. Teachers use a variety of tools for assessment/data collection such as: examination, analysis, and a review of students' work utilizing rubrics and checklists.

Participation: Class participation can foster a high level of energy and enthusiasm in the classroom learning environment and allows for the sharing of insightful explanations and interesting connections. Class participation will be evaluated on the frequency and quality of student contributions, and how students effectively respond to others' comments. Participation may also include performance on informal and formal writing, projects, and/or other work. Participation will be measured and tracked via checklists, rubrics and other data collection systems.

Performance: A performance assessment shows what students can do by performing a task related to a skill or concept that has been taught in class. A task describes what the student is expected to do. Performance can be measured by rubrics, checklists, and other assessment tools/data collection

- Homework assignments may include written work, studying, reading in content areas, and research.
- Homework which is not handed-in may affect the report card grade in the academic area (for example, incomplete assignments and projects impacts an overall grade.)
- Each child should have at least two homework buddies to call if he/she has questions about the homework assignment.
- No homework will be assigned on Fridays or during extended breaks.

Homework provides parents with further information regarding their child’s learning, thereby strengthening the home school connection. Please check nightly with your child to see if homework has been completed and contact your child’s teacher with any concerns regarding homework. They should not exceed the above times when completing it.

PROMOTION IN DOUBT PROCESS

Chancellor’s Regulation A-501 outlines promotion standards for New York City public school students in grades K through 12 as well as procedures for implementing the promotion policy, including the promotion in doubt process.

The Promotion in Doubt (PID) process allows schools to formally notify families, in writing, that their child is at risk of not meeting promotion standards and being retained in the same grade for the next school year. Additionally, it enables schools and families to plan for the needed supports and interventions to help students achieve promotion standards by June.

Promotion Timelines

The timelines provide an overview of key deadlines and actions relating to the promotion process for schools.

TIME FRAME	ACTION
Fall Parent/Teacher Conferences	Schools give early notice to parents if their child’s performance is not approaching standards.
Ongoing	Schools review student promotion criteria information and update sources systems as needed.
January	Promotion in Doubt Process Begins—Schools identify students as Promotion in Doubt.
February	School mails Promotion in Doubt letters to families.
Spring Parent/Teacher Conferences	Schools update parents on their child’s progress towards meeting promotion standards.

Promotion Criteria

Students with Disabilities

- For students with existing IEPs, any changes to a student’s promotion criteria must be made by the end of January to be in effect for June’s promotion decisions.
- For students who were initially referred to special education or students who are new to DOE schools with existing IEPs, changes to a student’s promotion criteria must be made by the end of May in order to be in effect for June’s promotion decisions.
- For more information on how promotion criteria is determined, applied and evaluated for students with disabilities, please see our School Based Support Team.

GREAT EXPECTATIONS: PARTNERING FOR YOUR CHILD’S FUTURE

The Learning Standards are designed to provide our students with rigorous curricula to ensure that they develop the creativity, critical thinking skills and ability to problem solve that they will need to meet the challenges of the modern world. But standards are a starting point, not a destination. By developing and cultivating a solid foundation of knowledge, our students will get the most from their education. Important to us, is also creating an environment in which all children develop a LOVE of LEARNING that will serve them for years to come. In a world where things change and grow so quickly, this will help them succeed in wherever life takes them. Below you will find ways you can support learning as a family.

Good Study Habits

To help your child develop good study habits:

- Set up a comfortable location at home for doing homework with simple supplies, such as pens, pencils, paper, scissors, and tape, near at hand.
- Set up a regular homework time.
- Help your child get organized. Have them write down and organize assignments each day. They need to learn how to manage their time and work toward long-range goals.
- Encourage them to do the most difficult homework first, not last.
- Check to see that assignments are complete and on time. Be more concerned with the process they use to complete work than with getting a right answer.
- Make sure your child knows the teacher's homework policies.

Ask Your Child's Teacher

Communication between you and your child's teacher can help support this learning at home. Here are some questions you may want to ask.

To Learn More About a Standard:

- Can you show me examples of student work that meets this standard?
- May I look at some of my child's work related to this standard?
- When will my child work on this standard during the school year?
- What activities and materials are you using in school to help my child meet and exceed this standard? What classwork and homework do you expect to assign?
- What are some exercises I can do with my child to help him or her with this standard?
- Besides the standards covered in this guide, what else is my child expected to learn this year?

To Learn How Your Child is Doing in School:

- In what subjects is my child working at grade level? Are there any areas that need improvement?
- Is my child reading at grade level? Can you show me some books that my child can read?
- How much time each day does my child spend working on each subject area?
- How do you assess my child on these subjects during the year?

To Learn How to Support Your Child:

- Besides report cards, what are the best ways to keep up to date on how my child is doing?
- If your child is not on grade level: What support is the school able to offer my child? What can I do at home to help my child do better in school?
- If your child is on grade level or above: What extra enrichment and support do you suggest for my child? How can I help at home?

SOCIAL MEDIA

Family members are in the best position to act as positive role models for the responsible use of social media. A Parent and Family Guide was created to help you guide your children in using social media responsibly and effectively as described in the Student Social Media Guidelines: 12 and Younger.

The guidelines as well as an activity book for students to accompany the guidelines were created by New York City Department of Education (NYCDOE) teachers, librarians, students, and parents in partnership with Common Sense Education. You can find the guidelines, activity book, and related resources and materials for both elementary and secondary school students by going to www.schools.nyc.gov and searching 'social media guidelines'.

STANDARDS OF INTERVENTION AND DISCIPLINE MEASURES

The New York City Department of Education is committed to ensuring that our schools are safe, secure, and orderly environments in which teaching and learning take place each day. A safe and supportive school depends upon the efforts of all members of the school community—administrators, teachers, students, parents, counselors, social workers, safety personnel, related service providers, cafeteria workers, custodians, and bus staff—to treat one another with mutual respect.

Included in the Citywide Standards of Intervention and Discipline Measures document is the Student Bill of Rights and Responsibilities, which promotes responsible student behavior and an atmosphere of dignity and respect by establishing guidelines to help students as they strive to become productive citizens in a diverse society.

For more information visit www.schools.nyc.gov and search 'discipline code'.
